AIB-AXYS November 2024 Stock Recommendations

October 2024 Highlights

- I&M Group New Share Issuance - I&M Group announced the approval of a subscription agreement with East Africa Growth Holding (EAGH), under which EAGH will purchase up to 86.5 million new ordinary shares from I&M. These new shares will constitute approximately 4.97% of I&M's total shareholding upon completion of the transaction. EAGH has agreed to a purchase price of KES 48.42 per share. This issuance may significantly impact I&M's share price and valuation. Consequently, shareholders and the public are advised to exercise caution when trading in the company's shares.
- HF Group Rights Issue - HF Group following approvals from the Capital Markets Authority, its board and shareholders, announced a Rights Issue to raise capital. They aim to issue 1,153,842,504 new ordinary shares, priced at KES 4 per share, with a green shoe option for an additional 346,152,751 shares. This transaction seeks to raise up to KES 5,999,981,020, with funds earmarked for capital enhancement and growth in HFC Limited's business segments. The offer opens on 12th November 2024 and closes on 9th December 2024.
- FY'24 Earnings Season – KPLC, Carbacid and Kengen released their FY'24 earnings showcasing strong financial performance. KPLC returned to profitability reporting net earnings of KES 30.1Bn driven by higher revenue and reduced finance costs aided by the strengthening of the shilling. Carbacid reported a 3.3% y/y increase in net earnings to KES 843.3Mn. Kengen reported a 35.5% y/y increase in net earnings to KES 6.8Bn primarily fueled by increased electricity income and finance income.
- Easing Price Pressures – Latest statistics from the Kenya National Bureau of Statistics (KNBS) indicate that the headline inflation rate as measured by the consumer price index (CPI) decelerated to 2.7% in October 2024 from 3.6% in September 2024. Fuel inflation increased 60bps to 1.70% from 1.10% in September 2024. Food inflation decelerated 80bps to 4.3% from 5.1% in the preceding month. Core inflation (Non-Food-Non-Fuel) eased marginally by 10 bps to 3.3% over the period under review.
- Kenyan Shilling Resilient - The Kenya shilling depreciated slightly against the USD to close at KES 129.1999 versus KES 129.1957 at the end of September 2024. We anticipate sustained stability of the shilling, underpinned by an improving current account balance, expected portfolio dollar inflows, and a projected recovery in key export sectors. However, the currency faces potential downside risks from increasing external debt-service obligations, which may exert pressure on foreign exchange reserves and overall currency performance in the medium term.

What does November 2024 Hold?

- Q3'24 Earnings Season - In the month of November, we await the release of Q3'24 results from the banking sector where we anticipate a strong performance from banks, driven by an increase in Interest Income and Non-Funded Income.

October 2024 Equities Market Highlights

- On a monthly perspective, the market indices recorded an upward trend with the Nairobi All Share Index increasing by 9.8% m/m, NSE-20 increasing 7.3% m/m and NSE-10 increasing 10.1% m/m.

- Equities market turnover decreased 1.5% m/m to KES 4.94Bn in October 2024 from KES 5.02Bn in September 2024. On a yearly perspective, turnover increased 2.4% from KES 4.83Bn. Market capitalization expanded by 9.8% m/m to KES 1.84Tn, signaling a growth in investor wealth. Looking ahead, we anticipate moderate market activity, as rising portfolio rebalancing efforts are likely to be tempered by sociopolitical challenges. Despite these headwinds, the current discounted valuations of key blue-chip stocks are expected to generate strong trading interest.

- Foreigners' participation expanded mildly to 43.8% of the total market activity with trading turnover increasing in absolute terms. However, foreign sentiment shifted to bearish, resulting in net outflows of KES 569.9Mn. This, in our view, was occasioned by dampened investor confidence amid political uncertainty particularly following the recent removal and subsequent appointment of a new Deputy President.
