AIB-AXYS Weekly Fixed Income Note

7th April 2026

Key Highlights

- Spot market Treasury bills were undersubscribed, recording a subscription rate of 70.9%, from 45.5% recorded the previous week. Demand remained subdued across all tenors, with the 182-day paper attracting the highest bids at KES 9.09Bn against KES 10.00Bn offered, followed by the 364-day and 91-day papers, which received KES 6.71Bn and KES 1.21Bn in bids against KES 10.00Bn and KES 4.00Bn offered, respectively. The broad-based weakness in demand signals a pullback in investor participation, with all tenors failing to achieve full subscription. This subdued appetite points to cautious market positioning, likely driven by tightening liquidity conditions, elevated uncertainty and a shift towards alternative instruments or wait-and-see behavior among investors.
- The 91-day Treasury Bill rate registered a 2.61 bps w/w downtick to 7.40%. Meanwhile, the accepted average yields on the 182-day paper rose by 0.08 bps, whilst the 364-day paper eased 0.35 bps to 8.28%.
- In the results from the reopened FXD1/2020/015 and FXD1/2018/025, the government registered a performance rate of 187.23% with total bids received amounting to KES 74.89 Bn against a target of KES 40.00 Bn. The total amount of accepted bids was KES 50.19 Bn. The weighted average rate of accepted bids for FXD1/2020/015 and FXD1/2018/025 was 12.1854% and 12.9872%, respectively (slightly above our competitive bidding range recommendation), while the coupon rates for the bonds were 12.7560% and 13.4000%, respectively.
- The government announced a bond switch, with the source bond being FXD1/2016/010, which carries a coupon rate of 15.0390% and is set to mature on 17th August 2026 (0.3 years to maturity). The authorities are seeking to switch up to KES 20.00Bn into the destination bond, FXD1/2018/015, which has a longer tenor of 7.1 years to maturity and a coupon rate of 12.6500%. The switch is aimed at lengthening the maturity profile of public debt and easing near-term refinancing pressures, while taking advantage of relatively lower yields on longer-dated securities.
- Across the secondary bond market, the value of bonds traded decreased 8.5% w/w to KES 58.92 Bn from KES 64.37 Bn recorded a week prior. The NSE Bond Index witnessed a decrease of 185.10 bps w/w to 1,170.26 points, driven largely by an increase in the 7-year benchmark yields. The 7-year yield rose the most by 98.42 bps w/w, while the 15-year yield eased the most by 37.58 bps w/w.
- Yields on Kenya's Eurobond papers increased by an average of 48.69 bps w/w, partly pressured by the ongoing conflict in the Middle East.

Macroeconomic Developments

Exchange Rate

- The Kenya Shilling depreciated against the USD, closing the week at KES 129.99 from KES 129.75 the previous week, a marginal w/w depreciation of 0.2%. The Shilling's YTD depreciation against the USD stood at 0.7%.
- Official forex reserves decreased by 2.6% w/w to USD 13,655 Mn from USD 14,022 Mn. The current reserves now offer about 5.8 months of import cover, meeting the CBK's statutory requirement of 4 months. The reserves also met the EAC's convergence requirement of 4.5 months of import cover.

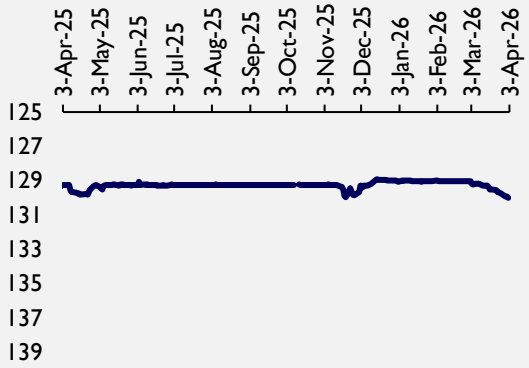

Liquidity

- The Kenya Shilling Overnight Interbank Average (KESONIA) closed the week at 9.74%. Going forward, we expect KESONIA to move largely in line with the CBR rate, following further narrowing of the interest corridor to 50 bps from 75 bps.

Kenya Consumer Price Index – March 2026

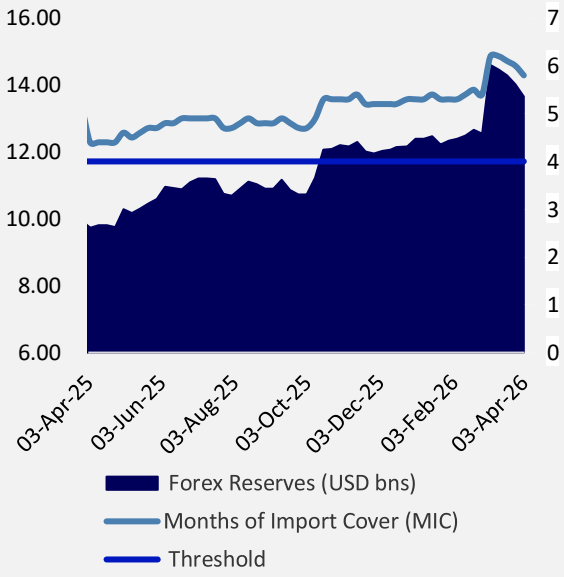

- March's inflation came in at 4.4%, slightly higher than 4.3% recorded in February 2026 and broadly in line with our expectations of 4.2%-4.4%. This implies that consumer prices were 4.4% higher in March 2026 compared to March 2025, reflecting continued price stability within the CBK's 2.5%–7.5% target band.
- The price increase was primarily driven by higher costs in Food and Non-Alcoholic Beverages (7.7%), Transport (3.8%), and Housing, Water, Electricity, Gas & Other Fuels (2.0%). These three divisions jointly account for over 57% of the CPI basket and therefore remain the key drivers of overall inflation. On a month-on-month basis, the CPI rose by 0.5%, from 149.20 in February to 150.00 in March, with core inflation remaining stable at 2.1% while non-core inflation increased to 10.8%, indicating persistent pressure from food and energy-related components.
- Food prices recorded mixed movements during the month. Prices of maize grain, cabbages, sugar, and spinach declined, offering some relief, while tomato and beef prices increased notably, reflecting supply-side pressures. Electricity costs rose across consumption bands, while fuel prices remained largely unchanged, helping to contain transport-related inflation.
- Looking ahead, we expect inflation to remain anchored in the near term, supported by relatively stable food supply and contained demand-side pressures. However, upside risks persist, particularly from a potentially depreciating exchange rate and heightened geopolitical tensions, which could translate into higher imported inflation and elevated global oil prices. While these risks may exert pressure on domestic prices, the overall impact is expected to be gradual, keeping inflation within the CBK target range in the near term.
