AIB-AXYS Weekly Fixed Income Note

13th April 2026

Key Highlights

- Spot market Treasury bills recorded a modest recovery in demand, with the overall subscription rate improving to 102.3% from 70.9% recorded the previous week, indicating a rebound in investor participation. Demand was largely skewed towards the short and mid-tenors, with the 91-day and 182-day papers receiving KES 7.98Bn and KES 10.85Bn in bids against KES 4.00Bn and KES 10.00Bn offered, respectively, showcasing renewed appetite for shorter-duration instruments amid prevailing uncertainty. In contrast, the 364-day paper underperformed, attracting KES 5.72Bn against KES 10.00Bn offered, suggesting reduced preference for longer-tenor exposure. The shift in demand dynamics points to cautious positioning by investors, likely influenced by evolving global risks, including rising geopolitical tensions and oil price volatility, which have heightened uncertainty around inflation and interest rate trajectories.
- The 91-day Treasury Bill rate stagnated at 7.40%. Meanwhile, the accepted average yields on the 182-day paper dropped by 0.07 bps, whilst the 364-day paper eased 0.80 bps to 8.27%.
- The government is looking to raise KES 20.00Bn through the re-opening of the SDB1/2011/030 and FXD1/2026/030 bonds, which are earmarked for budgetary support in FY25/26. The bonds have a quoted tenor to maturity of 14.9 yrs and 30 yrs while the coupon rates are set at 12.000% and 12.5000%, respectively. Bidding is set to close on 15th April 2026. We will be issuing further bidding guidance.
- The government announced a bond switch, with the source bond being FXD1/2016/010, which carries a coupon rate of 15.0390% and is set to mature on 17th August 2026 (0.3 years to maturity). The authorities are seeking to switch up to KES 20.00Bn into the destination bond, FXD1/2018/015, which has a longer tenor of 7.1 years to maturity and a coupon rate of 12.6500%. The switch is aimed at lengthening the maturity profile of public debt and easing near-term refinancing pressures, while taking advantage of relatively lower yields on longer-dated securities.
- Across the secondary bond market, the value of bonds traded decreased 9.7% w/w to KES 53.21 Bn from KES 58.92 Bn recorded a week prior. The NSE Bond Index witnessed a decrease of 77 bps w/w to 1,170.17 points, driven largely by an increase in the 9-year benchmark yields. The 9-year yield rose the most by 68.34 bps w/w, while the 20-year yield eased the most by 28.33 bps w/w.
- Yields on Kenya's Eurobond papers decreased by an average of 52.70 bps w/w, supported by easing geopolitical tensions following the ceasefire in the Middle East.

Macroeconomic Developments

Exchange Rate

- The Kenya Shilling appreciated against the USD, closing the week at KES 129.15 from KES 129.99 the previous week, a marginal w/w appreciation of 0.6%. The Shilling's YTD depreciation against the USD stood at 0.1%.
- Official forex reserves decreased by 2.5% w/w to USD 13,316 Mn from USD 13,655 Mn. The current reserves now offer about 5.7 months of import cover, meeting the CBK's statutory requirement of 4 months. The reserves also met the EAC's convergence requirement of 4.5 months of import cover.

Liquidity

- The Kenya Shilling Overnight Interbank Average (KESONIA) closed the week at 8.75%. We expect KESONIA to remain broadly aligned with the CBR, supported by adequate liquidity in the interbank market and CBK's active liquidity management.

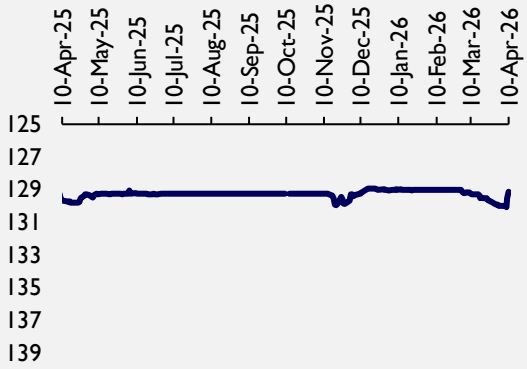

Monetary Policy Committee policy decision

- The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) of the Central Bank of Kenya (CBK) maintained the Central Bank Rate (CBR) at 8.75% in its April 2026 meeting, indicating a pause in the easing cycle.
- The decision was underpinned by the need to anchor inflation expectations, with inflation at 4.4% in March, while safeguarding macroeconomic stability amid rising global uncertainties, particularly from the Middle East conflict. While economic activity remains resilient and private sector credit growth improved to 8.1%, the MPC noted that elevated global risks, including higher energy prices, warrant a cautious policy stance.
- The banking sector remains stable, with the NPL ratio at 15.6% in March 2026, slightly higher than December levels, although banks continue to maintain adequate provisions. Meanwhile, the economy remains resilient, with GDP growth estimated at 5.0% in 2025, supported by strong services performance, recovery in industry, and stable agricultural output.

Stanbic Bank Kenya PMI – March 2026

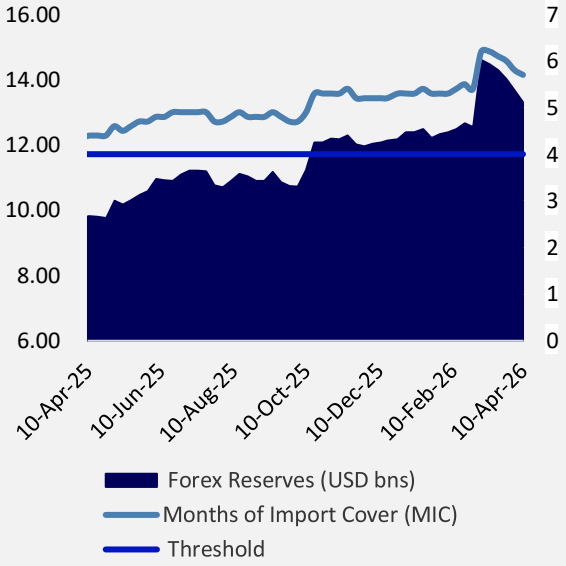

- According to Stanbic Bank Kenya's Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI), business conditions deteriorated in March 2026, with the headline PMI declining to 47.7 from 50.4 in February, signaling the first contraction in seven months.
- Private sector activity weakened, with both output and new orders declining following six months of expansion. The slowdown was largely demand-driven, as firms cited constrained consumer spending, reduced cash circulation, and tighter household budgets. External pressures from the Middle East conflict also disrupted logistics and dampened sales. Employment growth softened, with only a slight increase in staffing, the weakest since October 2025. Firms scaled back hiring amid declining workloads, while backlogs fell sharply, marking the most pronounced reduction in nearly six years.
- Business sentiment remained resilient, with outlook largely unchanged from February. Just over a fifth of firms expect higher activity over the next 12 months, supported by plans for business expansion, marketing, and product diversification, despite ongoing geopolitical and demand-side risks.
