TRIFIC Green USD I-REIT

- I-REIT – basically acquires properties, manages properties, and receives rental income from these properties, which it will, in turn, pass on to investors in a similar fashion as dividends in shares. Our view of the opportunity (here)
- Supported by annual rental escalation clauses, SEZ incentives, and a market maker to enhance liquidity, the REIT presents an attractive diversification opportunity for income-focused investors. Clients interested in participating can click the link for further details and the application.

Spearhead Africa Infrastructure Fund (SAIF)

- During the week, Spearhead Africa Infrastructure Fund (SAIF), Kenya's first CMA-regulated infrastructure fund listed on the NSE's Unquoted Securities Platform (USP), officially launched after raising KES 3.50 Bn through the issuance of 35 Mn units at KES 100 per unit.
- The fund is expected to provide investors with exposure to infrastructure-linked sectors including renewable energy, digital infrastructure, transport & logistics, electrification and water infrastructure, positioning it to benefit from long-term structural growth opportunities across the region.
- SAIF is targeting returns estimated at 5.0%–6.0% above the prevailing 10-year government bond yield, alongside quarterly cash distributions supported by underlying infrastructure project revenues.
- Additionally, the fund's tradable structure on the NSE and absence of a lock-in period are expected to enhance liquidity and broaden investor participation in alternative infrastructure investments.

AIB-AXYS Weekly Fixed Income Note

25th May 2026

Key Highlights

- Spot market Treasury bills remained oversubscribed, with the overall subscription rate rising to 125.2% from 110.0% recorded the previous week. Demand was heavily concentrated in the 91-day paper, which received bids worth KES 15.87Bn against KES 4.00Bn offered, as investors increasingly favored short-term liquidity positioning amid prevailing market uncertainty. The 182-day paper also recorded relatively healthy uptake, attracting KES 8.39Bn in bids, while demand for the 364-day paper remained subdued at KES 5.79Bn against KES 10.00Bn offered. Investors seem to be shunning the 364-day paper in anticipation that yields may rise further, allowing them to lock in higher yields in the coming weeks.
- The 91-day Treasury bill rate edged up to 8.39%. Similarly, yields on the 182-day paper recorded a marginal downtick of 0.10 bps, while the 364-day paper increased by 2.50 bps to 8.59%.
- In the results from the reopened FXD3/2019/015 and FXD1/2021/020, the government registered a performance rate of 94.32% with total bids received amounting to KES 47.16 Bn against a target of KES 50.00 Bn. The total amount of accepted bids was KES 36.59 Bn. The weighted average rate of accepted bids for FXD3/2019/015 was 12.9708% (well in line with our competitive bidding range recommendation), and FXD1/2021/020 was 13.7421% (slightly above our competitive bidding range recommendation), while the coupon rates for the bonds were 12.3400% and 13.4440%, respectively.
- In the results of the switch auction from FXD1/2017/010 into FXD1/2021/020, the government recorded a performance rate of 76.1%, with total bids received amounting to KES 7.61Bn against the targeted KES 10.00Bn. The total amount accepted stood at KES 4.53Bn, with the weighted average rate of accepted bids settling at 13.4116% against a coupon rate of 13.4440%. The switch operation saw KES 4.31Bn successfully switched from the source bond, underscoring the government's continued efforts to smooth its domestic debt maturity profile and ease near-term refinancing pressures through proactive liability management operations.
- Across the secondary bond market, the value of bonds traded decreased 28.2% w/w to KES 29.49 Bn from KES 41.04 Bn recorded a week prior. The NSE Bond Index witnessed a decrease of 40 bps w/w to 1,158.24 points, driven largely by an increase in the 2-year benchmark yields. The 2-year yield rose the most by 57.46 bps w/w, while the 20-year yield eased the most by 23.91 bps w/w.
- Yields on Kenya's Eurobond papers increased by an average of 35.46 bps w/w. As the unresolved geopolitical conflict in the Middle East continues to remain an overhang.

Macroeconomic Developments

Exchange Rate

- The Kenya Shilling depreciated marginally against the USD, closing the week at KES 129.75 from KES 129.33 recorded the previous week, translating to a w/w depreciation of 0.3%. Consequently, the Shilling's YTD depreciation against the USD stood at 0.5%.
- Official forex reserves decreased by 2.2% w/w to USD 13,211 Mn from USD 13,507 Mn. The current reserves now offer about 5.6 Months of import cover, meeting the CBK's statutory requirement of 4 months. The reserves also met the EAC's convergence requirement of 4.5 months of import cover.

Liquidity

- The Kenya Shilling Overnight Interbank Average (KESONIA) closed the week at 8.75%. We expect KESONIA to remain broadly aligned with the CBR.

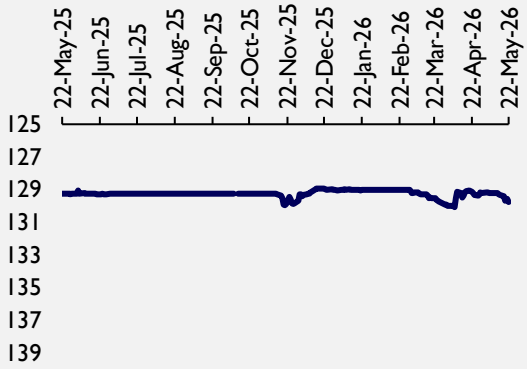

May Inflation

- May inflation data is due this week. We expect inflationary pressures to build further in the near term, with headline inflation projected within the 5.9%–6.4% range, supported by elevated fuel prices, higher transport costs, and rising imported inflation.

EPRA Pump Price Review – May 2026

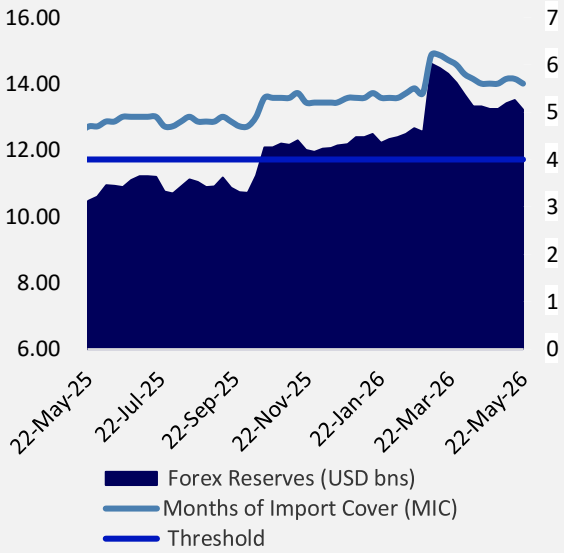

- The Energy & Petroleum Regulatory Authority (EPRA) released the maximum retail pump prices for the period 15th May 2026 to 14th June 2026, with prices increasing sharply following a surge in global oil prices during the review period.
- Following public concern over the sharp fuel price adjustment, the government revised pump prices, with Super Petrol remaining unchanged at KES 211.19 per litre, Diesel prices reduced to KES 232.86 per litre from KES 243.64, while Kerosene prices increased to KES 191.38 per litre from KES 152.78. The adjustment reflects continued government intervention measures aimed at easing pressure on transport and production costs amid elevated global oil prices and heightened geopolitical tensions.
- The increase was largely driven by higher landed costs, with Super Petrol rising by 10.0% to USD 906.23 per cubic metre from USD 823.87, while Diesel surged by 20.3% to USD 1,291.98 per cubic metre from USD 1,073.82. Kerosene recorded a comparatively modest increase of 1.6% to USD 1,332.73 per cubic metre. The sharp escalation in import costs reflects tightening global supply conditions and heightened geopolitical tensions, particularly across key oil-producing regions.
- EPRA noted that the government cushioned consumers through the Petroleum Development Levy (PDL), partially offsetting what would have been an even steeper increase in retail prices. However, despite the intervention, the magnitude of the upward adjustment highlights the growing pass-through effect of elevated international oil prices and elevated import costs.
- Looking ahead, pump prices are expected to remain exposed to upside risks amid persistent geopolitical tensions, volatile global crude markets, and lingering supply chain concerns. While government stabilization measures may continue to provide temporary relief, sustained increases in international oil prices and currency pressures could trigger further upward adjustments in subsequent pricing cycles.
- We expect inflation to continue to pick up in the near term on the back of high energy prices as well as imported commodities. Prolonged-elevated inflation may trigger an inflection point to the monetary path.
