AIB-AXYS Weekly Fixed Income Note

2nd June 2026

Key Highlights

- Spot market Treasury bills registered a sharp reversal in investor demand, with the overall subscription rate declining to 69.3% from 125.2% recorded the previous week, marking the first undersubscribed auction after few weeks of strong investor participation. Demand was overwhelmingly concentrated in the 91-day paper, which attracted KES 14.09Bn in bids against KES 4.00Bn offered, while the 182-day and 364-day papers remained heavily undersubscribed, receiving only KES 1.05Bn and KES 1.49Bn in bids, respectively, against offers of KES 10.00Bn each. The pronounced preference for shorter-tenor instruments suggests investors are increasingly prioritizing liquidity and flexibility, while remaining cautious about locking in funds at current longer-term yields amid evolving interest rate expectations.
- The 91-day Treasury bill rate edged up to 8.39%. Similarly, yields on the 182-day paper recorded a marginal uptick of 3.87 bps, while the 364-day paper increased by 3.85 bps to 8.63%.
- The government is looking to raise KES 40.00Bn through the re-opening of the FXD1/2020/015 and FXD1/2018/025 bonds, which are earmarked for budgetary support in FY25/26. The bonds have a quoted tenor to maturity of 8.7 yrs and 17.1 yrs while the coupon rates are set at 12.7560%, and 13.4000%, respectively. Bidding is set to close on 3rd June 2026. We will be issuing further bidding guidance.
- In the results of the switch auction from FXD1/2017/010 into FXD1/2021/020, the government recorded a performance rate of 76.1%, with total bids received amounting to KES 7.61Bn against the targeted KES 10.00Bn. The total amount accepted stood at KES 4.53Bn, with the weighted average rate of accepted bids settling at 13.4116% against a coupon rate of 13.4440%. The switch operation saw KES 4.31Bn successfully switched from the source bond, underscoring the government's continued efforts to smooth its domestic debt maturity profile and ease near-term refinancing pressures through proactive liability management operations.
- Across the secondary bond market, the value of bonds traded increased 26.1% w/w to KES 37.18 Bn from KES 29.49 Bn recorded a week prior. The NSE Bond Index witnessed an increase of 18 bps w/w to 1,160.43 points, driven largely by a decrease in the 29-year benchmark yields. The 15-year yield rose the most by 32.92 bps w/w, while the 29-year yield eased the most by 38.80 bps w/w.
- Yields on Kenya's Eurobond papers decreased by an average of 0.46 bps w/w as investors balanced persistent geopolitical risks against improving sentiment toward frontier market assets.

Macroeconomic Developments

Exchange Rate

- The Kenya Shilling appreciated marginally against the USD, closing the week at KES 129.55 from KES 129.75 recorded the previous week, translating to a w/w appreciation of 0.2%. Consequently, the Shilling's YTD depreciation against the USD stood at 0.4%.
- Official forex reserves decreased by 0.02% w/w to USD 13,209 Mn from USD 13,211 Mn. The current reserves now offer about 5.6 Months of import cover, meeting the CBK's statutory requirement of 4 months. The reserves also met the EAC's convergence requirement of 4.5 months of import cover.

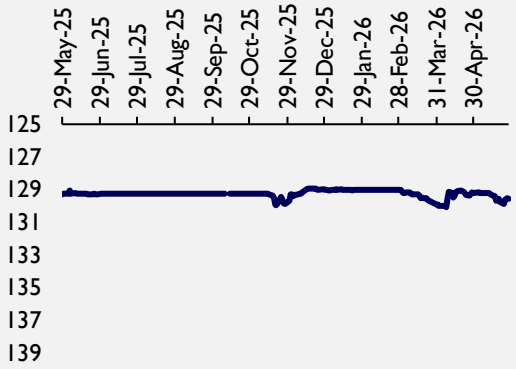

Liquidity

- The Kenya Shilling Overnight Interbank Average (KESONIA) closed the week at 8.75%. We expect KESONIA to remain broadly aligned with the CBR.

Kenya Consumer Price Index– May 2026

- Headline inflation accelerated to 6.7% y/y in May 2026, up from 5.6% in April, exceeding our expectations and marking the highest inflation print in over a year. While inflation remains within the CBK's target range of 2.5%-7.5%, the sharp increase signals mounting price pressures across key consumer expenditure categories.
- The increase was primarily driven by higher food and transport costs. Food inflation rose to 9.4%, supported by significant increases in prices of tomatoes (+11.2%), cabbages (+5.0%), spinach (+5.2%) and kale (+3.0%), while transport inflation surged to 16.5% following substantial increases in fuel prices, with diesel, petrol and kerosene rising by 18.4%, 8.4% and 25.3%, respectively. The resulting increase in public transport fares further amplified inflationary pressures.
- Core inflation increased to 3.2% from 2.8% in April, while non-core inflation accelerated sharply to 16.0% from 13.4%, highlighting the growing contribution of food and energy-related shocks to headline inflation. Food and non-alcoholic beverages contributed 2.7 percentage points to overall inflation, while transport contributed 1.6 percentage points, underscoring the broad-based nature of recent price increases.
- Looking ahead, we expect inflation to remain elevated within the 5.9%-6.4% range over the near term, supported by persistently high fuel prices, elevated transport costs and continued pass-through effects from global commodity prices. While easing food supply conditions and exchange rate stability may provide some relief, sustained energy-driven inflation could limit the scope for further monetary policy easing and keep inflation expectations biased to the upside.
